HOW TO CREATE AFFIRMATIONS

Affirmations are positive statements of acceptance and manifestation. Affirmations can be considered a form of prayer. By repeatedly vocalizing them, affirmation statements can shift the beliefs of the conscious and unconscious mind. These statements are released to the Universe to be fulfilled.

Affirmations work because Thoughts Become Things. Scientists have observed these phenomena in working with quantum physics. Everything in the universe, including our thoughts, is energy. We can influence energy by our observations. If our observations come from an open, loving heart then they are positive and will have a positive influence on our world.

Each time you hear that voice in your head sounding negative, doubtful, or questioning, gently veer it back on course by saying an affirmation. Over time you will banish the negative thinking all together.

Here are some tips on how to write good affirmations:

1. Always use the present tense and the first person.
2. Never use negatives in affirmations.
3. Keep them short but very specific because you are going to get what you ask for.
4. Believe. The more you believe, the stronger the affirmation.
5. Be repetitive and persistent.

How to implement affirmations:

1. Speak or sing your affirmations each day. Say your affirmations in the first, second, and third person.
2. Record your affirmations and play them back while awake or sleeping.
3. Write your affirmations down. Review them regularly. Post them in prominent places.
4. Journal your affirmations and experiences. Record affirmation successes.
5. Visualize your affirmations as living pictures. Visualize your affirmations as if they are true now.
6. Create a vision board by pasting pictures of what you are affirming on a board.
7. Take actions toward receiving your affirmation.
8. Give gratitude for all the blessings that have arrived and all the blessings still on their way to you.
9. Act as if your affirmation is already working in your life.
